I am a strong proponent of full accessibility and interoperability of video relay service (VRS). Though we get free free modems or products from VRS providers, such freebies should not restrict our functional equivalence by allowing us to use any VRS.